We Meet First Defeat

Score: St. Louis, 9; U. of K., 0.

To one who did not attend the game played last Saturday at Sportsman Park, St. Louis, the above score does not in the least signify the battle that was fought there. I say battle, because blows figured prominently. We lost, and we should not be the ones to afterwards talk about certain details that happened during the sixty minutes of play but a word must be said here and there to show the students and followers of "Old State" who did not have the opportunity to go, just what did happen and to account for that 9-0 score. Our team left Thursday night, all in good condition, to go up against the strongest combination, with the exception of Illinois, they have ever gone up against. They arrived in St. Louis two hours later and took up their quarters at the American Hotel. Friday evening Capt. Webb and his men indulged in very light practice, kicking and passing the ball until late. After a good night's sleep they breakfasted late and lounged around resting until the time for the game. Many Kentuckians, or former Kentuckians, belonging to the Kentucky Club, came around to say "howdy," and give them their best wishes.

St. Louis' superior weight told on our men in the last quarter when they went through our line at will. It might be said here that the Saints outweighed us 15 pounds to the man and as Capt. Webb, after the game, said, "It was the fastest team I ever played against. They are every bit as heavy and about three times as fast as North Carolina." The work of some of our team at times was awfully poor, and many fumbles of punts and forward passes gained much ground for our opponents. A delayed pass, the man carrying the ball going through tackle, proved St. Louis' greatest gainer, and they worked this throughout the game, sandwiching in a forward or double pass for sake of variety. The punting honors were about even, Dockery and Shanklin averaging 40 yards. Coach Bender has developed a good team at St. Louis University and the result of their game with Syracuse on Thanksgiving is watched with interest. The game Saturday has nothing to do with the Southern championship race. It was played under Missouri conference rules, this accounting for the ball being brought out on the 30-yard line for scrimmage. The following is the game in detail.

Summary

Shanklin kicked off to Dockery on 10 yards and was downed by Campbell on the 20-yard line. Painter makes 3 yards around left end. Stadtherr makes 3 more round right end. AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY NOTES.

The all-absorbing topic of interest at the Palace of Agriculture now is the international Live Stock Show and judging contests which we are preparing to enter there. Quite a number of students not on the teams expect to take the trip, for they realize that if we can't add our presence to the structure and that things can be learned there that they "can't learn at school." "Coach" Hooper, with his team and rooters, will leave for Chicago Monday, November 21, and will remain there probably till the following Monday. The one sad feature of this trip is that all who go will miss the Central game. We are very sorry that the arrangements are such, but if we can't add our presence to the vast crowd on that day and witness the "Wild Cats" administer a crushing defeat to Central, we will be with them in thought and sympathy. We have already arranged to have the result telegraphed to us at the end of each half.

Two teams are being prepared to judge in Chicago. The one to compete for the saddle horse trophy enters the contest Tuesday, November 22. This team is composed of A. C. Ball, A. J. Thaxton, Wm. Collins, G. C. Routt and E. F. Worthington. The other team, which is to judge all classes of fat stock on Saturday, November 26, consists of Ball, Routt, Worthington, Wilson, Hughes and Sand.

The saddle horse team has been studying the best horses in and around Lexington. We have judged horses in the barns of such men as Messrs. Railey, Harbison, Cohen, Moreland, Roland, Wilson, Harris and Kerr. On Saturday last Prof. Hooper and this team went to Bourbon county to the farms of A. G. Jones and Collins & Redmon. A number of high class horses were studied and good work was done by the students in placing the animals one over another. Mrs. Collins had an old-fashioned country Thanksgiving dinner prepared, which was enjoyed more by the hungry students than were the horses. The team will work hard this week and should be in good shape to enter the contest.

This is the first year that our Agricultural College has entered any of these judging contests and of course we are greatly handicapped by lack of experience and by the fact that we have so few students to pick from, compared with the larger agricultural colleges. However, we have hopes of winning and will at least give them the best we have and make a creditable showing.

The Agricultural Society meets Friday night at 7 o'clock. The program is posted on the bulletin board in the building. Every member be sure to come. Probably there will be some eatings, so don't miss this meeting.

OUR LAST RALLY

There will be a rally what am a rally on Stoll field Wednesday night, November, 24. The bonfire that we will have is going to be one that would make Nero ashamed of the conflagration he caused when he set fire to Rome. If he could only be there to see ours. It takes all kinds of fuel for a fire of that kind, so be on the lookout for loose gates, fence panels, posts, board walks, brush and anything else with which we can make a fire. Every fellow in school wants to have a wooden box, gate, or one of the above enumerated articles spotted to bring down that night and bring it, too. We are going to have a big time that night in order to get primed up for a much bigger one the next night. Don't forget the time and the place, and the girl. Stoll Field, Wednesday night, 7:30 o'clock.

DRAEGER HELMETS FOR MINERS.

Few mining engineering students will have the opportunity held by Kentucky State men of seeing and being trained in the use of the Draeger life saving apparatus, one of the most important and latest inventions in mining work. This apparatus is allotted to mining inspectors by the United States government, and as Prof. Norwood is the State Mining Inspector, four Draeger helmets are given to the K. S. U. mining department as a central station. These helmets are made so as to be worn by men in mines, and a supply of oxygen is pumped into them. A pulsometer, or resuscitating pump, is also part of the apparatus.

T. J. Barr, one of the assistant inspectors, recently lectured to the students on this apparatus. It was also shown to them by the president of the Draeger Helmet Co., in this country, who was recently here.

It is planned to show the helmet to the students in operation. For this purpose a room is being fixed up with glass partitions. Behind these partitions the space will be filled with noxious fumes in which the instructors will wear the helmet. In this room, also, the students will be trained in the use of the apparatus.

At only one other school in the United States have these helmets been placed.

The Mathematics Society met Wednesday evening, November 12. Prof. Davis gave an interesting and instructive discourse on the origin of numbers, principally. The society meets twice each month to discuss such matters as would be of use and difficult to the student of mathematics. All engineering students should attend and are welcome to do so.

If you want to come to the front, join Prof. Downing's regulars.

It was announced in one of the St. Louis papers that the Kentucky Club of that city would attend our game with the University of St. Louis, and since then we have learned that the Kentuckians were in attendance in large numbers to welcome our boys and show their regard for Kentucky. No doubt few of them were ever connected with our institution or perhaps had even been more than passingly interested in it. Very likely they had lived in various sections of the State where the influence of the State University is not felt as it is in Lexington. Yet they were loyal and true to the team that represented the State institution of their grand old native soil. Their spirit is more than that shown by us here. We love our great and glorious old "K. S. U." and fight for her on every occasion, but they manifested the spirit that pervades the people of our whole commonwealth.

This is the spirit of the true Kentuckian wherever he may go and this is the loyalty that gladdens the hearts of us all. When those of us in other states do so much out of love for Kentucky, ought we not to be exceedingly proud that we may call ourselves Kentuckians?

This example of spirit ought to be an incentive to us to show our true mettle and exert ourselves to the utmost for our University and our State.

The spirit of the student body is excellent, but we are never so perfect that examples such as this cannot help us to be more serious and earnest in our purpose.

We extend our most hearty thanks to the Kentucky Club of St. Louis for the generous appreciation and interest shown in our football team and may their away be long and prosperous.

On the St. Louis team there played three men who were not eligible to play on the regular team. The freshmen of St. Louis University are not allowed to play on the regular team but the contract was drawn up between St. Louis and Coach Sweetland to the effect that they could play their first year men if we were allowed to play our five year men. The contract was approved, at the time, by the athletic committee, but when it came time to select the men to go to St. Louis there was a kick coming from the faculty. To have played our five year man at St. Louis would not have hurt us in the Southern Association, nor would it have injured us in the State championship. But we did not play our five year men and St. Louis played three of her first year men, Silk, McCarthy and Zachritz. The result was that we were defeated 9 to 0. We could have played "Cap." in the line which would have broken up many of their plays. Our men played well and played hard. But not to put in a man who was eligible to play and who would have, perhaps, saved the defeat, is a question that a few of us with inferior judgment cannot understand.

LOOK FOR THE THANKSGIVING NUMBER OF THE IDEA.

Next week's issue of The IDEA will be the Thanksgiving issue. It will be given out at the gate of the athletic field and only those who have cards can get one without extra charge. This will be by far the greatest issue of the paper that has ever come out. It will be a twelve page edition and will contain the pictures of Central's team as well as our own. It will have the line-up and officials of the game, the score of the games played by both teams and other football news. It will be one of the newsiest papers ever seen at the University. GET ONE.

MINING SOCIETY MEETING.

The Kentucky Mining Society held its monthly meeting on Nov. 6, in the mining building. The meeting was devoted principally to having a good time the chief feature being a big "feed," at which the miners smashed records for consuming food.

The only business of the meeting was a lecture by Bruce Hagar, illustrated by a number of stereopticon slides. Mr. Hagar showed that our present method of drilling wells was not as modern as has been thought, and was, in fact, used by the Chinese thousands of years ago. The pictures used to illustrate this were made by a Chinaman.

The society is composed of the mining men of the State, including the students and teachers of the mining engineering department, the State mining inspectors and others.

At the next meeting, to take place on the first Monday in December, Prof. Norwood, Dean of the department, will repeat the address he made at the Ohio Valley Exposition in Cincinnati. The subject is, "Resources of Kentucky," and the lecture will be highly interesting. It will be illustrated by 104 slides. Prof. Norwood holds the office of State Geologist, and is the best posted man in the State on Kentucky's resources.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

Under the guidance of Dean Snow and Prof. Noe the Teachers' College is attaining a standing which is far ahead of anything it has ever held before. Recently the department has been recognized by some of the large universities of the East. We are glad to know that through the efforts of the department our graduates can now enter directly the graduate schools of some of the best universities and receive the master's degree in one year. We now hope to produce a large class of men to take advantage of the opportunity offered.

BASKET BALL.

In a few more days the last college yell will die away from the bleachers, the referee will blow his whistle for the last time of the season and two tired and wornout football teams will march slowly off our own dear athletic field, and the last great fight will be lost and won. But you say, Why call it a fight, when it is to be only a game? It will be both; it will be a game, but it will be a game fight.

From that time until the baseball season opens next spring, there will practically be no activity at all on the athletic field, and the only sound that can be heard from the bleachers will be that of the moaning wintry wind as it whistles by.

But, still, athletics will not be dead. We will not skip from the cold autumn day on which the football season ends to the bright warm spring days in which the baseball season begins. During this period it is certain that the weather will be too cold to engage in outdoor athletics; but it is said that God never intended for man to rest, and if this be true, certainly He didn't exclude athletes, and consequently some wise chap invented basket ball to fill up this vacancy.

After the Thanksgiving holidays are over basket ball practice will begin in earnest. In fact, practice has already commenced and anyone desiring to get in line for the season may have an opportunity to do so by coming to the gymnasium any afternoon between 3:30 and 6 o'clock. Central beat us last year, so we want to get in shape this time to pay them back good and proper. The new material looks good, besides several old students, who have not gone out for basket ball before are coming out this year, and we don't see any reason why we can't have a winning team.

The schedule is not entirely complete, but games have already been scheduled with some of the biggest and best college teams of Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia. We also expect to take a nice trip up North. However, all the dates for the trip have not been settled upon. We hope to announce the complete schedule in the next issue of The Idea. So come out, get in line and make your K on the basket ball team.

UNION LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Union Literary Society met last Saturday evening for a short business meeting, after which the members adjourned to hear Prof. Terrell speak to the Patterson Society. Mr. W. C. Shultz was elected as the first of the two men from the Union to meet Central in debate this year. Mr. Shultz is a good man and will show C. U. a thing or two.

L. E. Smith was installed as recording secretary of the proceedings for the remainder of the term.

Dr. Terrell gave a learned presentation of orators and oratory. Taking up Patrick Henry, Henry Clay and Webster from America, and such as Demosthenes of antiquity, he made the evening both a pleasant and profitable one. We all hope to hear him again, for we consider it a rare opportunity. We all will remember Fox and Pitt and the Earl of Chatham.

At bugal call, the Freshman, once so gay,
Unwilling feet drag o'er the campus green,
For Seniors stern their law had made that day,
"Without red caps no Freshman must be seen."

Forth stepped a youth till then unknown to fame,
And raised his voice in protest strong and loud,
"We'll not obey—in fact it is a shame
To make red heads of this good-looking crowd!"

"Up Pirtle, Jackson and Freshman all,
Let's show these Seniors, proud of their little wit,
That we are freeman, freeman, great or small,
And to their mandate will not submit!"

The plea of Robinson—the unquestioned power,
Of other clarion voices on the green
Awaits alike the inevitable hour—
The red caps on the Freshmen's heads are seen.

Norma Cassidy.

THE OLD GREENHOUSE GONE.

The greenhouse which has beautified the campus these long years has been torn down. It is missed by everyone who trods the campus walks. But perhaps the one that mourns most over its disappearance is "Petey" Moore. "Petey" will no longer have a place to hide among the tropical plants. Instead of "hide and seek" it is "seek and hide" with "Petey." "Petey" has now to seek some other place to hide, and Judge Lafferty will have to seek that hiding place in order to find "Petey."

But "Petey" is not the only one that has been hiding, nor has Judge been the only seeker. In the springtime when the flowers begin to blossom and the young folks feel the effect of the spring days, the greenhouse has been a hiding place of many a lass and lad during the chapel hour, and Aunt "Lucy" has been the seeker.

In passing the door of the greenhouse one could not but say "Here doth the earth, with flowers of every hue, Heap her green breast when April suns are bright."

But now in passing the vacant spot we think of "The Death of the Flowers."

"Where are the flowers, the fair young flowers that lately sprang and stood
In brighter light and softer airs, in beauteous sisterhood?
Alas! They all are in their graves, the gentle race of flowers
Are lying in their lowly beds, with the fair and good of ours."

The music was furnished by a colored orchestra. The march was gracefully led by Miss Mary K. Venable and Mr. T. B. Hayden, the rear being brought up by "She Pat" and "Aunt Lucy." Dear Hamilton was well represented by Miss Hank. There followed a program dance of 24 dances. At intermission a delightful lunch, consisting of sandwiches of all kinds, and pickles, was served.

The particular bunch of wildcats are said to be feudists from Feudville, Feud county.

"The wildcat is a noble beast, His meat is nice and tender. Oh, won't he make a lovely feast For little Johnny Bender?"

SAYRE NOTES.

The first Field Day Exhibition of the season, at Sayre College, was given last Wednesday.

In the first game which was Captain Ball, the junior freshmen came out ahead, but in the running races and basket ball game, which followed, the senior-sophomores were victorious. A beautiful Sayre banner was presented to the winning side, the senior-sophomores. After the game some of the members of the athletic association had a very profitable sandwich sale.

Miss Mary Spencer will have as her guest during the Thanksgiving holidays, Miss George Swinney, of Eminence.

Miss Mary Amos spent the week-end at Versailles with Miss Mattie Bohannon.

A very delightful mock faculty meeting was given last Saturday evening at Sayre by the Athenian and Thalian Literary Societies. Senior expression class, mail distribution, gym class, faculty recital, shopping line, question box and faculty meeting were interesting features on the program.

Miss Louise Spencer will have as her guest next week, Miss Katherine Letcher, of Danville.

Miss Goodloe entertained the girls on her ward last Saturday evening.

HIPPODROME.

The three acts which make up the vaudeville end of this week's Hippodrome are all above the average and the fact that the bill is short an act is not noticed. The single act which was scheduled, failed to show up and as every act on the bill carries special scenery and electrical effects, the show runs the full hour without the least drag.

Smith and Harris are closing the bill with a travesty on the discovery of the north pole. Commander Peary and Hensen, the black man, are the characters which are cleverly burlesqued.

The Shubert Musical Three sing a little play a little and develop enough comedy to keep the audience convulsed. Their "Old Black Crow in the Hickory Tree," proved one of the biggest song hits ever introduced here and was good at every show Monday for a half dozen returns.

The four Hirschorns, who are billed as "Alpine Entertainers," furnish a musical innovation entirely apart from what one expects from the billing.

There is no attempted comedy and all the music is cleverly arranged with a view of pleasing the public instead of boring.

There has never been a vaudeville attraction of the same nature produced here which is more pleasing in its entirety than that of the Hirschorns.

The Hipposcope with a full reel of new pictures, finishes up the show in good style.

BANNER.

The management of the University Book Store has established a Thanksgiving custom whereby a Kentucky State banner is given away free to the students of State University.

Mr. Battle states that the ladies as well as the young men are entitled to a guess on the Thanksgiving score. Records of the past football games between State and Central can be found at the University Book Store.

The banner is a large 4x18 piece of blue jett with the word Kentucky written across it.
